Looking after yourself or someone you care for

Vaccinations to protect your health

As we age, our immune system becomes less efficient at protecting us. A number of different vaccinations are available to help older people stay well and to boost immunity against serious illness. These vaccinations are free on the NHS and include:

- Winter flu vaccination protects against influenza. Flu can be particularly serious in older people and cause complications such as bronchitis and pneumonia. Flu vaccination is offered every year in autumn or early winter to help protect people at risk of getting seriously ill from flu. If you are aged 50 or over, you are eligible to receive your free flu vaccination.

www.nhs.uk/conditions/vaccinations/flu-influenza-vaccine/

- COVID-19 autumn booster provides additional protection against the COVID-19 virus. Although the pandemic has ended, COVID-19 is still circulating and can cause serious illness in older people. If you are aged 50 years and over, you are eligible to receive your free COVID-19 booster.

www.nhs.uk/conditions/coronavirus-covid-19/coronavirus-vaccination/how-to-get-a-coronavirus-vaccine/how-to-get-a-booster-dose/

Getting your flu and COVID-19 vaccines are two of the most important things you can do to keep yourself and others around you safe during winter.

If you are offered both vaccines, it's safe to have them at the same time.

- Pneumococcal (PPV) vaccine will help protect you from pneumococcal diseases such as pneumonia. If you are aged 65 or over, or have certain health conditions, you are eligible for the pneumococcal vaccine.

www.nhs.uk/conditions/vaccinations/pneumococcal-vaccination/

- Shingles vaccination is available on the NHS to people in their 70s to prevent shingles, a common, painful skin disease. Unlike the flu vaccine, you will only need to have the vaccination once and you can have it at any time of the year.

This Guide is for everyone who's 50+ or for those who know or care for someone who is.

You may be fit and well and want to know what you can do to look after yourself. Or you may have had a crisis like a fall or visit to hospital.

In both cases, you might find this Guide useful.

Ageing Well

We all want to feel as well, active and able to cope as possible as we get older. The good news is there are many things you can do for yourself and people who can help, even if you feel you're struggling.

The Guide talks about:

- Things you may face as you get older, and opportunities for you;
- Tips and hints on looking after yourself;
- Contacts and people who can help.

If you want to feel better, remind yourself:

- Everybody's starting point and what you want to do is different. Don't try to do too much too quickly, set small goals daily or weekly to keep you going if you need to.
- There's lot of things you can do. What helps is different for everyone but the first step is often with you
- Small things matter. Simple changes you can make – things at home (e.g. removing trailing wires), going for a walk or making a call to someone – add up to a big difference quickly.
- Asking for help shows strength. Talk to someone. Don't be afraid to ask questions, it's your life.
- If you've had a crisis, such as a fall, your health gets worse suddenly or the death of a loved one, things will often get better over time, and you can cope and recover.
- Many of us care for someone who's older. It's important to look after yourself as a carer, too. Many of the tips and hints in this Guide may be useful for you, too and help is available for you as a carer.

Using this Guide

There are lots of things you can do for yourself, or with those you live with or care for, that will make a real difference to staying as healthy, well and independent as you or they can be.

You can get help, advice and support from others, or get involved to help others. You can find a list of useful contacts and websites on each page and at the end of this Guide.

You can find out more things and services to help you at:

Recovering Health: Ageing Well and Frailty

Most people over 65 are generally fit and well. But the older you get, the more likely you are to start to have issues with your health or problems with daily living. We know some people under 65 have the same problems.

Few of us want to be called ‘frail’, but it is a medical term. It’s about the impact of different conditions or symptoms on your life. For example, you might be struggling with things like getting around or about.

‘Frailty’ is also about the way you might struggle to bounce back quickly after illness, accident or stress. Sometimes relatively small things, like a minor infection, can lead to a crisis.

You CAN recover health, well-being and independence after a crisis.

This includes your mental well-being, too. Being on the mend after a crisis is often about re-building confidence and peace of mind.

Everyone’s starting point is different. Use the diagram (on the next page) to help you think about where you feel you are at the moment.

Your Starting Point

Where are you at the moment? Remember you can often recover and get fitter.

Staying Steady: Reducing Risk of Falls

Dizziness can make you fall. If you feel dizzy when you stand, move around a little.

Sight and sound help you keep your balance. Book regular eye and hearing tests with your optician and NHS and use prescribed glasses/equipment. You may be eligible for free NHS eye and hearing tests.

Alcohol and some medications affect balance. Try to cut down on alcohol and check with a pharmacist about medications.

Gentle Strengthen and Balance Exercises help improve leg strength, balance and co-ordination to avoid falls.

To stop slips and trips at home, remove hazards, like trailing wires. Watch out for slippery surfaces, loose carpets, mats or stair handrails.

Take care when walking outside, particularly in bad/icy weather. Use footwear with good grips and walking aids if needed.

Haringey and Enfield Councils have Community Alarm (see Contacts on next page). These services can work with you to understand your needs and give you equipment to help you feel safe. For example, if you fall at home, help can be sent 24/7 at the press of a button.

Keeping Active

It's never too late to exercise!

Gentle exercises, even in a chair, builds your strength, coordination and mobility and can be fun. There are online exercises you can try, pick one that suits.

Group community classes are available, such as 'keep fit', dance, sports and so on.

Ensure shoes fit well, have enough grip and don't slip off. Discuss with a chiropodist or your GP about any foot problems.

You may need help to keep you active or get around. There's lots of equipment, such as grab rails, that can help you, check Enfield or Haringey's websites to find out more. Or ask health or social care staff.

If you're not in good health or have had a health scare, you should ask your GP or health professional for advice about what you can do, any exercise is better than none.

Returning Home from Hospital

If you've been admitted to hospital, Haringey and Enfield have Home from Hospital services to help you return home if you need it.

Some patients need help from NHS and Council therapists and staff for a few weeks to regain confidence in daily living or moving around. Talk to health or social care staff working with you about what you need.

You can also discuss how to get active with your general practice or talk to a professional you're working with.

Managing Pain

It's not always to stop pain, but it may be possible to reduce it.

As you age, your body takes more wear and tear but long-lasting pain is not a natural part of ageing. If you're in pain, and it won't go away, talk to your GP.

What can help?

Try to keep as active, mobile and take as much exercise as you can. Keeping your mind occupied also helps.

Over-the-counter painkillers like paracetamol or anti-inflammatories like ibuprofen can help. But always take carefully, read the box and watch out for side effects. If in doubt, talk to a pharmacist.

Depending on the reason for the pain, your GP may ask a physiotherapist to work with you. They will help you with stretches, exercises and pain-relief. This can also help you recover after illness or accident.

Gum or teeth problems can be painful. It is important to have regular dental check ups. Clean your teeth, and floss, at least twice a day. Ask your dentist for advice.

If you have concerns regarding a new pain or are struggling to manage a chronic pain contact your general practice, pharmacist or dentist.

You can also consider referring yourself to a physiotherapist if you have back/neck, joint pain or soft tissue injuries.

Eating and Drinking Well

As we get older, many of us put on weight and do less exercise. Others lose too much weight.

Vitamin D, which you get from being out in the sun, and calcium are vital in keeping your bones healthy. Think about taking vitamin supplements as you get older.

It's important you eat and drink well and take regular meals without bingeing. Try to eat a balanced meal with:

- Protein like lean chicken meat, eggs, soya and skimmed milk;
- Carbohydrates such as oats, bananas and sweet potatoes;
- Unsaturated fats like olive or rapeseed oil.

Eat 5 portions of fruit and veg each day.

Try new recipes you can manage

If you're struggling to prepare a meal, there's kitchen equipment that can help. If you can't go shopping or prepare a meal, there are shops, supermarkets and services that help.

Drink Well

Make sure you drink water or a non-alcoholic drink to help avoid illness and keep your kidneys working, 6-8 glasses per day. If you have a heart condition, talk to your GP about the right intake for you.

Losing weight or appetite suddenly is not a normal part of ageing

If you have lost weight suddenly, lost your appetite or can't eat properly (e.g. you find it difficult to chew or swallow), talk to your GP.

Skin Care

As you age, your skin gets thinner. Scratches, cuts or bumps take longer to heal. You may have dry and itchy skin, patches feeling rough and scaly on legs, elbows or arms. But there are things you can do to protect your skin.

What should I look out for?

Check your skin daily, particularly the places in the 'Body Hot-Spots' diagram, you can use a mirror for difficult places. Look for any red/purple patches, dry skin, wounds, blisters, sores or grazes. They may be itchy or painful.

Keep moving, change position often

A short walk between rooms or marching on the spot eases stiffness, reduces pressure on the skin and helps circulation.

What helps?

Itchy skin is not usually serious, you can ask a pharmacist or your GP, and:

- Moisturise daily but use unperfumed products
- Take shorter warm, not hot, showers/baths
- Don't sunbathe or UV tan
- Stop smoking
- DON'T SCRATCH!

You need to be careful the area doesn't get infected or form an ulcer, this makes it more painful and causes problems. Avoid pressure on the area. Talk to your GP or nurse.

What do I do if I'm worried?

If you have any new or worsening skin issues, particularly wounds or a painful area, talk to your GP, a pharmacist or nurse.

Needing the Toilet

As you get older, you might feel you need the toilet more often, urgently or unexpectedly. Some people are so worried about being caught short, they don't go out.

Should I be embarrassed? No!

You might worry about talking about your bladder or bowel problems but it's a medical problem. In many cases, it can be cured or managed, talk to your GP.

Common problems include:

- Needing to wee or poo more often or urgently;
- Leaking wee or poo when coughing, exercising and so on;
- Difficulty starting to wee/straining to poo;
- Wetting the bed.

What should I look out for?

Watch out for changes in your need to use the toilet, particularly blood in your wee or poo or pain when weeing. If you're worried, talk to a GP or a nurse working with you.

What helps?

Tips are:

- Drink more water to make wee less concentrated;
- Drink less alcohol and caffeine drinks like coffee;
- Exercise to strengthen pelvic muscles;
- Keep skin clean, dry and moisturised if you're having bladder or bowel problems.

You may need products, like pads, simple aids or equipment to use the toilet. Your GP or professional working with you could advise. Don't rush when you do need to go to the toilet particularly at night, you could fall.

Feeling Low

We all feel low sometimes when we're upset, angry, worried or sad, often after bad news or crisis, like an illness, accident, worries about money or family or death of someone close.

Low moods often lift after a few days, but if they go on, it could be a sign you're depressed – it's important to talk to someone.

What should I keep an eye on for in someone else?

Someone in your family or a friend may be low, upset or worried, not keeping in touch or not looking after themselves. They may be lonely or live alone, keep in touch and help them to talk about it or get help, particularly if they're very low.

What helps?

- Connect: Keep in touch with, and get help from family, friends or services.

- Keep Busy: As far as you can, keep your hobbies or interests going, try new things. Join in!
- Be Active and Look After Yourself: Make sure you manage any health conditions. Eat, drink and rest as well as possible. Try to keep active, go for a walk or do exercises seated.
- Take Notice: Find small things that cheer you.
- Give: Thank someone. If you have time and can do it, volunteer to help others, it helps you too!

What do I do if I need help?

If your mood won't go away and affects your life, there is help, particularly if you feel very low. See the contacts list for further support and information and contact your GP or nurse if things don't improve.

Memory and Confusion

As you get older, you might feel you can't remember things or solve problems as easily as you used to. For most of us, this is nothing to worry about. Keep yourself as active and alert as you can, exercise helps your brain, as do puzzles and games.

What can cause problems?

Problems you have with memory loss, confusion, decision-making etc. could be linked to things like stress, an infection, a physical health condition or medications. Talk to your GP about any issues.

Sudden Confusion: Delirium

Someone with delirium has a sudden change in behaviour: they may be confused or hallucinate, often after an infection, surgery, change in medication or if they can't sleep. Delirium can last for days, but most people recover. Get medical advice if you're worried about someone.

Long-Term Memory Problems

Sometimes problems with memory and confusion are caused by problems in the brain itself. Talk to your GP, it's important to rule everything out first and get the right treatment as early as possible.

Remember: not all memory loss is caused by diseases of the brain and it may be temporary.

Home Life

Getting better or fit and well isn't just about your health, but it is also about your home life – who you live with, your home and area.

Managing health at home

Make sure you know how to manage your conditions, including what works for you, how to relieve pain or symptoms, your medications or how to make appointments.

Plan in advance what to do in a crisis

If your condition got worse or you had a fall, who would you contact? If you want to use Council Alarm Services, you need to register.

Looking after those who care

You may have family or friends who help you with your condition or daily living. It's important they know they can get help they need as a 'carer', this helps you too.

Plan for the future

Think about and get advice about how you can:

- Make your home safer for you to move about. Get rid of things that risk slips/trips. Do you need repairs or changes to your home?
- Make your home help you. What equipment, aids and adaptations do you need to make life easier?
- Plan the week. Do you have enough food and drink? Do you need help getting out or about?
- Keep in touch with others and keep busy.
- Get reliable advice about money, legal and housing matters. Not all of us want to, but think about planning with others what happens when you're very ill or gone.
- Plan for the winter including heating, etc. and things like getting a flu jab.
